CPSO arrests Shreveport man for August 2016 shooting

Thursday, June 1, 2017

Caddo detectives have arrested a Shreveport man for a shooting that occurred this past summer in Rodessa, said Sheriff Steve Prator.

Brian Devontae Carroll, 21, was booked into the Caddo Correctional Center on Friday, May 26, for the attempted second-degree murder of Demetrius Owens. Owens was shot in the face in the early morning hours of August 5, 2016, while standing outside his residence on Main Street. The shot was fired from a white four-door Nissan Sentra parked at the corner near Owens' home. Caddo Sheriff's Detective Christopher Daniel said the shooting was believed to be in retaliation for a shooting earlier that night in Vivian.

Daniel said Carroll was originally questioned in connection with the case in 2016 but new evidence helped detectives obtain a warrant this past week for his arrest on the attempted murder charge.

Carroll's bond was set at $250,000.
