Woman surprised to learn she is divorced

Thursday, August 23, 2018

A Shreveport woman was surprised to find that she was recently granted a divorce in Caddo District Court even though she was not seeking one, according to Caddo Sheriff Steve Prator.

Her husband, Demario Clark, 27, has been arrested with filing false public records, and his girlfriend, Lisa McKinney, 50, has been arrested for forgery.

Earlier this month, the woman discovered documents showing divorce paperwork between her and her husband had been filed and granted. She did not have any knowledge of the proceedings nor did she have any wish to divorce her husband, said Sheriff's Det. Mike King.

Evidence was discovered showing Clark and McKinney had the papers drawn up; McKinney's daughter, Stanneisha, forged Mrs. Clark's signature; and Clark filed the paperwork with the Caddo Parish Clerk's Office. McKinney testified as a witness on Clark's behalf during the proceedings. The divorce was granted on August 1.

Both Clark and McKinney were booked into Caddo Correctional Center following their arrests. Like her mother,Stanneisha McKinney, 26, of Shreveport was also booked into CCC for forgery.
