

CPSO seeks clues in man's 2015 disappearance

Wednesday, November 13, 2019

November 21 marks the four-year anniversary that 33-year-old Kenneth Cole was reported missing. Today, his family and Caddo Sheriff's detectives are still searching for answers about his disappearance.

Caddo deputies say since that time there has been no word from Cole and no sightings. Only the discovery of his car at the Shreveport Goodwill on West 70th Street shortly after he was reported missing.

The last time Cole's family had contact with him was on November 16, 2015, by phone, said Caddo Sheriff's detectives. He purchased a plane ticket to Las Vegas and was to leave on November 20, but he didn't make the flight. He had plans to move to Alaska with a friend but didn't make it there either.

Detectives say there were no obvious signs of foul play, but lack of evidence has provided no clues as to where he might be.

Anyone with information about Cole, his activities in November 2015, or where he might be is urged to contact Detective Nathan Everett at the Caddo Sheriff's Detective's Office at 681-0700.
