

CPSO investigates domestic call in Vivian

Monday, December 2, 2019

Update:

The suspect arrested earlier today on Scarpengo Road has been identified as Zackery Summage, 31, of Shreveport. He is currently being booked into CCC for unauthorized entry of an inhabited dwelling and flight from an officer.

Original release:

A domestic call in Vivian earlier today led to a pursuit involving deputies and the arrest of one person so far, said Sheriff Steve Prator.

The Caddo Sheriff's Office was contacted at 9 a.m. by the Vivian Police Department which was requesting assistance with an investigation at 308 West Atlanta. Deputy Sean Channell responded and spoke to a female at that location who said her estranged boyfriend kicked in the door to the residence where she and her current boyfriend were inside.

During the incident, the woman received a head injury and ran to a neighbor's for help. It's not yet clear how she received the injury, but she was treated and released from North Caddo Medical Center in Vivian. Shots were also fired by at least one person at the scene on West Atlanta. This remains under investigation by detectives.

The home intruder fled the scene in a red Dodge Charger. Deputy Mike McConnell spotted his vehicle on LA Hwy. 1 near north Shreveport a short time after the initial call and began a pursuit. The suspect drove into the woods near Scarpengo Road and abandoned his vehicle. He was found hiding in a tree by Deputy McConnell and K-9 Deputy Justin Dunn. That person was taken into custody for questioning by detectives but has not yet been charged. Deputies are still looking for the second male, who left the residence.
