CPSO Investigates the Stabbing Incident of a 77-year-old Woman

Tuesday, July 4, 2023

Caddo patrol deputies detained a 25-year-old Keithville woman for stabbing her 77-year-old grandmother, said Sheriff Steve Prator.

At approximately 3:45 a.m., Caddo deputies were notified that an elderly woman walked into Ochsner LSU Health with multiple stab wounds to her abdomen and legs. The victim told the hospital's security officer that her granddaughter walked into her room while she was sleeping, stabbed her, and told her to drive herself to the hospital.

Patrol deputies were dispatched to the woman's residence in the 12000 block of Mansfield Road in Keithville to look for her granddaughter. The woman was located at a nearby truck stop and taken into custody. She was detained and transported to the Criminal Investigation Division for further investigation.

There is no information on the victim's current condition.
