

National Law Enforcement Appreciation Day

Thursday, January 9, 2025

Posted by Breck Scott

Today, January 9, 2025, we honor the courageous men and women of the Caddo Parish Sheriff's Office and other law enforcement agencies who dedicate their lives to safeguarding our communities. Your steadfast bravery, resilience, and commitment to justice inspire us to work toward a safer and brighter future. By confronting challenges with determination and upholding the principles that unite us, your relentless efforts make a lasting impact each day.

We thank you for being everyday heroes who embody strength and ensure peace and safety for all. Your sacrifices do not go unnoticed, and we are profoundly grateful for your unwavering service. The Caddo Parish Sheriff's Office is fortunate to have such a dedicated and professional team serving our parish. From responding to emergency calls to participating in community events, our officers consistently go above and beyond to positively impact the lives of our citizens of Caddo Parish. We appreciate your service, sacrifices, and unwavering commitment to our community.
