Temporary workers arrested for stealing from employer

Tuesday, April 15, 2008
Three people used jobs received through a local temporary employment agency to create fraudulent timesheets and receive extra paychecks, said Caddo Sheriff Steve Prator.

Detectives with the Caddo-Shreveport Financial Crimes Task Force arrested the following people for forgery and booked them into the Caddo Correctional Center:

o Quanna Collins, 22, of the 3300 block of Valewood; o Ebony Robinson, 19, of the 3100 block of Devaughn; and o Mario Griffin, 18, of the 4000 block of Mayfield.

All of the suspects were assigned to work at a chicken processing plant and created timesheets to receive three paychecks each to which they were not entitled. The total amount of the checks forged by the three suspects was $3,416..

Additional arrests are anticipated.

The cases were investigated by Caddo Sheriff's Detectives Bobby Herring and James Lewis and Shreveport Police Detective Kim Anderson.
