Former teacher arrested for stealing from school

Friday, October 12, 2012
A former teacher at North Caddo High School was arrested today for stealing $9,000 in materials from the school, said Caddo Sheriff Steve Prator.

Rodney Doyle, 42, of Dubberly, was arrested on a charge of felony theft and booked into the Caddo Correctional Center.

Detective Charles Bradford, who investigated the theft, said Doyle worked as a teacher assigned to the schoolâ€™s welding department during the 2011-12 school year. He did not return to teach this year.

In September, school officials reported the theft of approximately $9,000 worth of metal taken from the welding department. Scrap yard receipts with Doyleâ€™s name on them were found in Doyleâ€™s work desk showing that he sold metal from the school between December 2011 and April 2012. He received approximately $2,300 from the scrap yard.
